Cologne Bonn announces the arrival of Adria Airways and airport's first link to Slovenia

Cologne Bonn Airport announces the arrival of its second new airline of the year, welcoming Adria Airways and securing the airport its first link to Ljubljana.

Operating a thrice-weekly service from 29 March, the Star Alliance member will be commencing a connection from Cologne Bonn – representing the airport's only service to Slovenia. Using its fleet of 70-seat CRJ 700s and 86-seat CRJ 900s respectively, the airline faces no competition on the 744-kilometre sector to its base at the capital city airport.
